What to say to start a conversation with a girl

You've probably been in a situation where you were fairly certain a girl liked you. Maybe she was giving you a lot of eye contact, smiling at you, or maybe she even told someone she found you attractive.

But, even though she was right in front of you, and you could easily have made your move, you had no idea what to say to the girl to start the conversation with her.

Whenever you're trying to meet and attract girls, you want to create a connection in as little time as possible.

The sooner you can transition yourself from "stranger" to "hot guy" the better.

Therefore, creating a "you and me" vibe rather than a "you versus me" vibe should be on the tip of your tongue when you start talking to girls.

Message Swipe Action Steps

You can play it humorous (“Hey, you look like my future ex-wife”), rapport generating (“Wow, I think me and you are the only two people in this bar who truly appreciate Phil Collins”), or serious (“Hi, I’m Rob. I just had to come over to meet you”). Unless a girl is acting like a complete brat, there’s no need to drive a wedge between you.

In fact, creating a “you and me” vibe preempts future bullshit because it gives you a reason to get along if she starts acting up (“Honey, why would you treat the only other soul who enjoys Phil Collins like this? Come on, this isn’t us”).

Whether you create role-plays for one another, bond over common interests, or just connect through the environment or situation, the theme of “you and her” should permeate throughout the interaction and, ideally, your relationship.

When people talk, they fall in a rhythm of complacency where one person follows the other, keeping the conversation moving in a familiar direction.

This allows people to relax and unwind – which is the exact opposite of flirting.

Message Swipe Action Steps

While it's not recommended you become an uber-weirdo and wildly jump from topic to topic, you should understand the tension, excitement, and leadership involved in redirecting a conversation. When you spend too much time with small talk the conversation tends to get boring, and you might lose attraction that she feels for you.

The best way to do this is to pull her into a conversation you were already having.

For instance, if you're talking to your friends about something (especially anything with a little "drama" to it) simply turn to a girl and ask her opinion on whatever you're talking about.

Where do guys go wrong in messaging women online

1. Not being aware of the male/female economics of online dating

You've probably heard various statistics about what a good reply rate on first messages is for online dating.

Message Swipe Action Steps

For men, the figure hovers somewhere from 20% to 40%. That is, there is such a gender imbalance that if you're sending out messages to 10 women and 4 reply, you're doing far better than average in online dating. Yikes.

This simple realization will help in the following ways.

It will combat the discouragement you will feel after not getting a reply back from someone who seemed like such a great fit profile-wise.

It will condition your mindset to accept rejection, yet not take it personally because an online dating rejection is based on nothing of your actual identity.

From the practical standpoint, it means that you shouldn't focus on the shallow hooks and openings she has in her profile...

Because five other guys will have messaged her about them that day.

Message Swipe Action Steps

For example, if she's a redhead, has a unique username, has tattoos, mentions something distinctly masculine like video games or sports... these all will earn you a trip to the delete button, because if a woman is getting that many messages, you're just blending in with the rest!

2. Writing a book instead of a message

How would you start a conversation in real life with a woman?

Besides simply saying "Hi," maybe you'd lean in and make a joke about the crazy woman in line, or remark that her shirt reminded you of a tropical bird. Any of these openers are 1-3 sentences...

Because that's the way you start an actual conversation naturally.

So why do so many people write paragraphs upon paragraphs about themselves, the woman, and an analysis of every little thing their profiles have in common?

It's not uncommon to see messages complete with an introduction, thesis, and conclusion.

What if you did this in person? "Hey, I also like to rock climb and watch Game of Thrones.

Oh, also, did you know that Game of Thrones was filmed in [location]? I see you also went to Thailand, I did too 3 years ago!

How are you liking Boston? My sister is a nurse too, and she loves her job."

Keep this in mind: your initial message to a woman is just to start a conversation as organically as the medium allows and simply GET A REPLY – not seduce her or enthrall her.

Hopefully that takes the pressure off that first message for you.

3. Focusing on yourself

At the most basic level, it's redundant to introduce and focus on yourself in a message. It should be in your profile.

Why else shouldn't you do this?

It screams copy and paste.

You're probably not making yourself sound very interesting.

You don't give her a reason to reply.

You're not grabbing her attention in the first 5 seconds, which is the time she will allot for your message.

4. Being a pen pal; not striking while the iron is hot

This harkens back to the economics of dating. Once you've got a woman's attention, you have only a very short period of time in which you can hold it.

If you've made it to message 3-5 from her, congratulations. The date is yours to lose and that's as good of a green light as you're going to get from her. Ask her out.

Anything more, and she will be waiting for you... and likely get message fatigue while waiting, and get scooped up by any of the other 3-5 guys she will be talking to simultaneously.

So don't be a shy pen pal and message forever – you're on a site/app that's sole purpose is facilitating real life introductions. Lead with that expectation, because she will.

5. Messages that would never work in real life

Here's a short list of things men do online that would never work in real life.

Cut and pasting the same thing to everyone.

Putting her on a pedestal.

Too many compliments.

Grammatical and punctuation mistakes.

Being overly sexual and aggressive.

Asking 10 questions in a row, up front.

Message Swipe Action Steps

Badgering her with messages if there is no reply.

Message Swipe Action Steps

Terrible texts that turn women off

If you recently met a girl who was all over you initially, but isn't replying to your texts anymore, the reason is simple. You haven't taken things to the next level.

You're constantly texting her and expecting that something will happen by itself (e.g. she will suggest meeting up), but it is YOU who must make the next move.

You have to call her up, attract her on the phone (e.g. with your confidence, charm, humor, etc) and then arrange a time to meet her in person. You then have to kiss, have sex with her and take it from there.

If a woman likes you, she will be excited to get your first few texts. She will wonder what is going to happen between you and her.

Will you have sex soon?

Will you start a relationship and fall in love?

Message Swipe Action Steps

Could you be the one?

Yet, if all you do is text, she will either get bored or begin playing hard to get.

For example:

If she stops texting you all of a sudden because she is bored, it means that she's not getting enough stimulation out of seeing words on the screen of her phone with smiley faces and LOLs.

She wants to see YOU in person and feel you, touch you and take it from there.

If she is playing hard to get by taking a long time to respond to texts, it means that she's either testing your confidence (e.g. will you panic and think that you've lost her interest?) or she is trying to see how much you like her (e.g. are you texting her like you text all other girls, or do you actually want to bang her soon?)

What a lot of guys don't realize is that most women are open to having sex with a guy pretty quickly these days. You don't have to spend a lot of time trying to get to know a girl via text before you can meet up with her and have sex with her.

A recent study in America for example, discovered that 55% of couples had sex on their first date. Another study in Europe found that 70% of women admitted to having experience a one night stand.

Sex happens all the times these days and it usually happens very quickly.

So, don't waste time hiding behind texts and hoping that she asks you out, calls you up or says that she really likes you. Simply make her feel attracted to you and then get her on a phone call, meet up with her and start a sexual relationship with her.

Instead of giving you a massive list of bad text messages that guys send to women, I'm going to explain where guys go wrong when texting and why it turns women off.

To simply create a list of bad texts for you would not be accurate because what may be a bad text from ONE GUY, will actually be a funny and exciting text from ANOTHER GUY.

Message Swipe Action Steps

It's just like how, in person, a joke from one guy doesn't sound funny, but when another guy says it, people find it hilarious, charming and cool and they crack up laughing.

The "right" and "wrong" text message would only be "wrong" if it was sent from a guy who is normally nervous, shy or insecure around women.

However, if it was sent as a joke from a confident guy who has his choice with women, it would be funny and would make the woman laugh.

Recently, a 25 year old guy contacted me and asked for dating advice like this, "hey dan...i nid u 2 tel me wat u do to gt such hot chiqs."

I replied and told him that I could only help him if he wrote to me properly, instead of writing like a little boy/girl.

I also let him know that women do NOT find that style of texting impressive or attractive...at all.

Message Swipe Action Steps

It's not cool or sexy. It is immature and it is a trend that was started by little girls when they first got phones and computers and were able to phone text or chat online.

I realize that some guys reading along now might be a bit confused because they may know of some guy who writes like that and still get laid.

Why is that? It is NOT because they write like a little girl when they text. It is because they know how to attract women in person, so women are happy to put up with a few minor mistakes like that.

However, if you don't know how to attract women in person and then you also write like a little boy (or girl), women will not give you a "free pass" by letting your mistake slide.

To be clear here...

It's okay to use slang and abbreviations when texting women, but if you go overboard with that stuff it will make some women assume that you lack maturity.

Message Swipe Action Steps

These days, a lot of guys make the mistake of using a more girly and childish style of writing texts because they think that's how women want to communicate with guys via text.

Women are attracted to masculine guys, not feminine guys who act girly via text.

Some examples of the girly, feminine style that some guys make the mistake of using when texting women:

“What r u doin? Idk wat 2 do”

“LOL....sorrreeeee!!! I m late c u in 20.”

“c u l8r”

“OMG....thats soooo baaaaad :O are you okay???”

Presumably, you wouldn't send a text like that to an important client or your boss at work, would you?

Message Swipe Action Steps

When texting your boss or an important client, you'd want to show your maturity, right?

When texting a woman, you should always aim to be the more mature one.

It doesn't matter if the girl you like is 15, 25, 35 or 45 – she doesn't want you to text like a little boy via text.

Whatever age you are, always try to present yourself in a mature, masculine way while also being playful and joking around with the woman.

It is fine for a girl (or even a grown woman) to write like a girl, but it is not fine for a guy of any age.

Simply write back to her in a more mature, masculine way no matter how girly she gets with you.

For example:

Do reply to her like this:

Message Swipe Action Steps

Girl: hey...wat u doin? i wana c u...do u lyke me 2?

Man: Yeah, you're alright 😊 I'll let you see me soon

Don't reply to her like this:

Girl: hey...wat u doin? i wana c u...do u lyke me 2?

Man (boy?): i lyke u 2. im doin nothin...i wana cu 2

The second example above looks like two girls texting each other.

Don't ever reply to a woman's SMS and write like she does.

Write like a man and she will feel attracted to your masculinity.

For example:

Girl: hahahaha....ur so funny...u crack me up! 😊

Man: Your face is funnier.

Girl: ? :(

Message Swipe Action Steps

Man: Whoops! Damn autocorrect. I meant to say your face is beautiful.

Girl: :) tanx

Man: Whoops! Damn autocorrect again. I meant to say that your face is funny, but also beautiful.

Girl: LOL

Man: Lol...

At that point of a text exchange, I would either call the girl or tell her to call me.

Why? I've already attracted her with some confident humor and now it is time to take the exchange to the next level (i.e. catch up in person, kiss and have sex).

Some men don't realize that almost all women don't watch porn and of those women who do, they almost all don't watch it for the same reasons as men.

Message Swipe Action Steps

Women are more turned on by a man's behavior and personality traits than his physical parts, whereas men can be turned on simply by looking at a woman's tits, pussy and ass...or even just her face.

Sending a photo of your dick will have little or no effect on a woman.

To most women, it's just as sexually arousing as looking at a foot or an ear.

In other words, it doesn't turn her on and it doesn't make her want to have sex with you.

Most women are more turned on by how a man's personality and behavior makes them feel.

Women can feel attracted to a man's physical appearance or parts (e.g. penis), but they are much more attracted to what you say and do when you interact with them.

Message Swipe Action Steps

For example: Does your conversation style and vibe turn her on, or do you turn her off and make her feel awkward or tense when you talk to her?

Do you trigger her feelings of sexual attraction when you interact with her, or does she see you as more of a friendly, nice guy that she has no sexual interest in?

Men get turned on by a woman's physical appearance, which is why porn is so appealing to us men and why the porn industry has always been aimed at providing images and videos of sexy women for men to jerk off too.

Right way to message a woman

If you're thinking that it takes a volley of back and forth texts to get the woman that you want, you're wrong. It takes three – and it really is that easy.

But the kicker is you have to know what those three texts are.

You have to know how to send them and how to get her response. There's a lot that you need to learn about women and this is one of the main things.

Message Swipe Action Steps

They don't want to read your little one-word responses or your short, cryptic text messages.

You communicate that way because you're a guy and what's wrong with keeping it simple? Nothing if you don't want to get that hot girl to have sex with you, but because you do, you have to do the messaging the right way.

A guy's normal response to a woman's text is usually something like, "Okay" or "What?" or "Yeah, sure".

Lots of sexy stuff in that to make her hot for you. Not. You have to learn how to write things that make her burn for you.

And it all starts emotionally with her. You tap that and you really tap that. It only takes a few seconds to message her with, "I've been thinking about you" to open up a conversation that gets her ready to put out.

And it makes her think what a great, thoughtful guy that you are. It takes a little bit of learning to give a woman what she needs through messaging.

Message Swipe Action Steps

But in the end, you get what you need so you're the ultimate winner of the game.

The main point of dating someone is to get to know that person better, so you can decide if the two of you have long-term potential.

The best way to do that is by having plenty of good conversations, so you can learn how your date thinks and feels about the things that are important to you.

You also want to find out a little about your would-be mate's history and current interests.

Without knowing what to ask or say, you could spend weeks or months with someone that isn't right for you. That's why it's so important to steer some of your conversations to topics that will help you find the answers you seek.

If you are on a first date and fear you will run out of things to talk about, read Conversation Starters or First Date Conversations for ideas.

Message Swipe Action Steps

After getting to know your new love interest, you may want to impress your boyfriend by using some of the tips in the article, Sweet Things to Say to Your Boyfriend.

If you really want to find out more about your new companion. Once you find out what your new companion thinks about the things that are most important to you, you can focus on some of the lesser details.

The main mission is to keep the conversation going so the two of you can truly get to know one another and figure out if the attraction you feel right now has enough of a foundation to grow into a lasting relationship.

Having the right kinds of conversations can do that for you.

It doesn't really matter how long you've been with your partner, if you have kids, they have a way of sneaking into the conversations you have with each other.

Even on date night. Ever thought of arming yourselves with a list of conversation starters? Ones that give you and your spouse an opportunity to talk about your history together or your future, and take a break from discussing potty training or bedtime strategies?

As he saw her across the restaurant, sitting alone for god knows how long, he finally decided to walk up to her.

Message Swipe Action Steps

He: Hi! My name is Jake. I see you're sitting alone for a while.
May I join you?

She: Actually I'm expecting someone. Sorry.

He: God you're patient! You should know by now that your blind date stood you up.

She: How... how did you know?

He: A pretty woman waiting for someone for so long. Maybe for a friend? Keeping a check on her looks every now and then. Making sure she looks as elegant as she can.

Definitely not for a friend. Maybe for a date? or boyfriend? That's what I thought.

But as I walked up here and introduced myself I saw your expressions change from excitement to delight to suspicion to disappointment. Clearly you were waiting for someone you haven't met before. So... a blind date it is!

She: Whoa.. Hey there Sherlock!

Message Swipe Action Steps

He: So if you don't mind, can I be blessed with your company?

She: Sure.. I guess. Hi. I'm Megan.

The date went pretty well. They seemed to click instantly. She couldn't help smiling and blushing at every sweet thing he said to her. He couldn't keep his eyes off her. God she was breathtaking!

Finally... it was time. Time to depart. They paid the bill and walked out of the restaurant.

She: It was nice meeting you. I'm glad Susan set us up, Ron.

He: Wait... you knew?

She: A handsome man sitting alone in a restaurant, observing petty little things about someone...

Won't he have something better to do?

Wasn't he himself waiting for someone? Or was he a stalker?

Nope. Surely doesn't look like one. Also, I never get stood up!

He: Ah... We are gonna go a long way together!

And then they kiss. For the first time. DEFINITELY not for the last time :)

Discussions on the future make for some very interesting conversations.

However, be careful if you know there are sensitive issues like kids or finances.

Keep these conversations on the level of asking your partner to name five new things he/she would like to learn before turning forty/fifty/sixty and so on.

It's always fun to talk about the yuckiest thing you ever had to do. It can be anything from what happened in high school chemistry class to the first time they you got completely drunk with friends.

If you could just drop whatever you are doing and do something that was fun, ask your partner what would it be.

Message Swipe Action Steps

This is also an interesting way of knowing what your partner enjoys doing most, especially with you.

The soft-core dirty talk may include sweet nothings, and “not so dirty” phrases and words.

The soft-core version is a great way to start with dirty talk. In the beginning it is best to stick with the words you already know these work well and gradually add new naughty words and phrases here and there during sex.

After all, who says a dirty talk has to be always vulgar? First of all, it has to be comfortable for both lovers and sound seductively enough to make you aroused and ready for more!

We all know that sometimes the simple statements work incredibly well.

“I love the things you do with your tongue”

“Honey, you’re the sexiest thing I’ve ever seen!”

“I want you so bad”

“Your wish is my command”

The hard-core dirty talk may involve swear words and slang words.

Many lovers find it extremely hot if you use them, especially if you don’t usually swear.

Message Swipe Action Steps

If you prefer to use some of the most vulgar words and phrases known to man, then so be it as long you are comfortable with it and keep it within both of you.

Talking dirty is like a secret with your sweetheart, a secret that only you two know and enjoy behind closed doors.

“I want to rub my pussy all over your face”

“Spray your juice all over my tits”

“Put your big fat baby maker inside my pussy and fuck my brain out. Right now!”

“This is how a real man fucks!”

A great way to sound sexy and dirty is describing out loud what is happening during sex, how wonderful it feels in your body; talking out your dirty fantasies; telling your partner something you're going to do and something you want your lover to do to you right now. If you can hold eye contact as you're describing it, you get some extra pleasure, believe me.

Message Swipe Action Steps

And one more thing: complimenting your lover is one more way to sound dirty in the sack.

Compliment and praise your lover, give her/him an ego boost. Talk about his/her body and tell him/her about your favorite part of his/her body.

Be descriptive and creative!

“You look so sexy when you do that”

“You taste sooo good”

“Oh, that feels so good! Do that again!”

“No one has ever made me come as hard as you can”

It's not what you say, but how you say it

Dirty talk doesn't involve only words and phrases.

You may use your voice and sounds: moans, groans, sighs; whispering and screaming.

You can sound commanding and harsh, submissive and uncertain, and everywhere in between.

When the subject of dirty talk comes up, the first thing to do is communicate your dirty talk boundaries.

If there are words that you don't like, you have to tell your sweetheart.

Once you have agreed on what works and what doesn't – have fun!

Tell me all the dirty little things you do when you masturbate, you naughty boy/girl. Tell me everything, baby. Tell me how you play with yourself.

I love the way it sounds when you fuck me. Hear it?
I want you to suck out all the juices you put in me with your mouth.
Baby don't stop! Oh my god, I love it when you do that!
I'm so fuckin' wet, just let me suck your sweet lollipop...
Put your baby maker inside my hole and fuck my brain out!
Just grab my head and force me closer!
I'm your slave for the night. Tell me what you want.
You can have me any way you want...
Get over here, big boy. And show me who's the boss!
Where do you want to come?
I want it all over me. Cover me with it.
What a sweet sexy ass!
Do you like my juicy pussy/big dick? Tell me what you see.
Describe it to me.
You're my bitch. I adore how naughty you are. I love you.
Babe, you have to follow all my rules tonight.
No stops this time. Let's see how many times I can make you come.
Don't you dare come until I say you can!
Maybe you should spank me – I've been very, very bad.
I want you to undress and wait for me in the bedroom.

Get on your hands and knees, sweetheart... and wait like a good girl.

Spread your legs wide for me, sweet darling. Your body is mine tonight.

You like it when I spread my legs and take you in?

I can't believe what you're doing! Please do not stop!

I love pleasing you and the sounds of your pleasure drive me crazy.

You little slut, I'm going to fuck you till you can't walk! Ready?

Fill me up, daddy, fuck my tight cunt! Make me scream with that big dick of yours!

Faster! Deeper! Harder!

What a hot nasty girl you are! I will wash your mouth out with my cum if you talk dirty, naughty girl.

I love how big your cock gets when I talk to you like this.

I love sucking your cock. And I'm going to lick it clean.

Cum for me baby, cum in my mouth, I want to taste you.

I could spend hours between your legs; teasing... sucking; sipping; tasting you.

I want you. I want to make love with you. I want to enjoy sex with you. I want to fuck you.

Oh, baby, that was the best fuck I've ever had. Thank you for that.
